We have developed a philosophically driven approach to caring, health and wellbeing based on Humanising practices. It is based on existential understandings from lifeworld approaches and focuses on what make us feel human. Humanising practices are those that incorporate fully human knowing and support a sense of connection and wellbeing.

This approach is supported by working practices which encourage connection to personal experience and research approaches which privilege subjective experience and knowing; such as phenomenology, narrative, auto-ethnography, embodied knowing and arts-based approaches.

Abstract submission

We welcome abstracts:

- On any topic linked to humanisation, health and wellbeing
- Reporting research, educational development or practice development.
- They may be empirical, methodological, theoretical or discussion papers

Please contact Caroline Ellis-Hill on cehill@bournemouth.ac.uk if you require any guidance regarding content.

Abstract should

- Be submitted in a word document
- Include a title (no word limit)
• Include details of authors
  o Names
  o Affiliations
  o Corresponding author with e-mail address
• Content maximum 300 words (not including title and references)
• Headings:
  o Background
  o Aim (of research or paper)
  o Method (if research)
  o Findings (if research) or Key points
  o Conclusion
• References are not needed and not more than two if included

Please send your abstract to:

Caroline Ellis-Hill (Conference chair) at cehill@bournemouth.ac.uk

Abstracts will be reviewed on an ongoing basis to allow participants to apply for funding when accepted.

Abstract submission will close when all the presentation spaces are filled; so please send your abstract NOW to avoid disappointment. Abstract submission will close on Tuesday 20 June, 5pm.

Registration

Register for your place at https://humanisation.eventbrite.co.uk, registration will close on 26 June 2017 (or earlier if places sell out).