

BU

Bournemouth
University

The ESRC Festival of Social Science

4-11 November 2017

Come and join us for the fifteenth annual ESRC Festival of Social Science to gain a fascinating insight into some of the country's leading social science research taking place at Bournemouth University.

Saturday 11 November

1-4pm

Supporting care leavers into higher education: What works?

Bournemouth University, Talbot Campus

This interactive workshop showcases recent research, undertaken at Bournemouth University, into the experiences of 'looked after children' and those supporting them, as they consider, enter and transition through university. This group of (potential) students often face more challenges when considering their future than many other young people, but our research suggests that with additional support and guidance, they can and do become successful graduates. Through discussion and mini-research activities we will consider how we can work together to fully engage and support these young people into higher education.

Book your free ticket now at: www.bournemouth.ac.uk/esrc-fss

@esrc #esrcfestival

@BUresearchevents